

Event & Parking Information

We are excited to welcome you to the Water Quality for Fisheries Symposium, taking place at the Duke University Marine Lab on October 27-28th, 2025! Below, you will find all the details you need to make the most of your experience:

Location: Duke University Marine Lab, 135 Duke Marine Lab Road, Beaufort, NC 28516

Parking Instructions: Parking will be available in the gravel parking lot located at the back of Pivers Island. When you arrive, follow the directions to Pivers Island by turning right at the stop sign on Old Causeway Road, then continue straight over the small bridge. The parking lot is located at the end of the road.

Walking Directions from the Parking Lot to the Auditorium: From the gravel parking lot, it's a short walk to the I.E. Gray Library and Auditorium. Exit the parking lot and follow the path toward the main campus buildings. The library and auditorium are housed in the same building.
